Brockton Student

Wins FFA Award

In State Finalists

Charles Grist, president of the New Brockton Chapter, FFA, was one of the top 5 boys nominated for the title of Alabama Future Farmer of the year award from over 15,000 FFA members.

This is the highest award given to an FFA member in the state.

Charles is president of the Coffee County FFA, Association and past chapter and county treasurer. He won the 1960-61 Chapter Forestry contest.

As a Future Farmer of America he has anticipated in 13 FFA activities and has had 48 projects. Last summer at the State FFA convention at Auburn, he received his State Farmer's degree.

His interest and experience in farming began when he was seven years of age, and he earned $4,000 from farming before enrolling in Vocational Agriculture three years ago. Since then he has earned over $10,000.

Under the supervision of the Agriculture teacher, B. A. Johnson, Charles planned and carried out 22 projects in agriculture from which he cleared about $7,000. $3,000 was from the sale of pine timber. This year he has 23 projects which includes 50 acres of peanuts and 22 acres of cotton.

By investing wisely, Charles now owns 153 acres of land worth $19,000. Of this 153 acres, 60 acres are in pasture land. He also rents 38 acres. He owns a 1958 model tractor, a 1960 pick-up truck, and is half owner in a peanut combine and automatic hay baler as well as some smaller equipment. In all, he owns about $9,000 worth of equipment.

At the conclusion of the show valuable door prizes will be awarded. A double orange is the grand prize.

Fair Labor Standards Prohibits Employment During School Hours

Farmers and commercial growers in the Gulf Coast area were reminded today that the Fair Labor Standards Act prohibits the employment of children under 16 years of age during school hours.

The reminder came from O'Neill Barrett, supervisor of the U. S. Department of Labor's Wage-and-Hour and Public Contracts Divisions field office in Mobile. Barrett said:

"The spring crop of strawberries and early vegetables always brings a demand for help," Barrett said. "Boys and girls under 16 years of age are barred from working on farms during school hours, but they may help in the home. After school, and on school holidays."

All farmers who ship crops across state lines, or have reason to believe that their products will cross state lines, are subject to provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act. Only exception to the law is for children who work for their parents or guardians on their home farms.

"Our special concern about keeping youngsters out of the fields is to ensure that they are properly trained to attend school. This applies to the children of migrants in the area as well as to local residents," Barrett pointed out.

Persons requiring further information about the child labor laws may contact Barrett at the Mobile Wage-Hour office, Room 406, 951 Government Street Building, or may call Helms 34568.

RAMBLING ROSES AND FLYING BRICKS

By EARL TUCKER

High school graduates, along about this time of the year, start coming to me seeking advice on a career. It is very refreshing to see these young people using such good judgment in seeking work and experienced counsel and I am delighted to impart knowledge to their eager minds.

Looking back some forty years I can realize the dilemma they face, because I was in the same predicament. I had seriously considered a number of careers and had discarded them one by one for various reasons. First, I toyed with the idea of becoming a minister but there were certain obstacles in the way. I knew I tried hard to believe all of the things my Sunday School teacher taught me, but I couldn't go all the way. I finally forced myself to accept the story of the whole swain, although I never did get what you might call enthusiastic about it. What I did get was that I had been to a circus where I saw a lion and he was on an electric light. Without getting shocked, he can also replace burned out fuses without having to call the utility company.

My advice to young people is to get in something they are sure they are going to like. I tell them not to be influenced too much by what their parents may have selected for them, on account of most parents have mighty high aims for their children and everybody can't be President.

Another bit of advice I give to young people is not to be afraid to change professions or vocations after they find they are not happy in a particular line. After all you can always fall back on something like writing a column.

Stock Dividends Declared By Heads Of Ala. Power Co.

At a meeting held April 16, 1962, the Board of Directors of Alabama Power Company declared the regular quarterly dividend of $1.03 per share on the 429 percent preferred stock of the company, the regular quarterly dividend of $1.15 per share on the 449 percent preferred stock of the company, and the regular quarterly dividend of $1.22 per share on the 472 percent preferred stock of the company for the quarter ending June 30, 1962, payable July 2, 1962, to stockholders of record on June 12, 1962.

These gives a high concentration of food values from milk. It's easy on the budget too. And, at this particular time, there's plenty of the product on the market.

★ why WALLACE is ★ THE MAN FOR YOU ★

Right-thinking Alabamians everywhere know that the next four years are possibly the most crucial ones our state has faced in a hundred years.

We are beset by outside forces and alien "isms" who want to turn our world upside down . . . by serious money shortages which have brought about a shameful crisis in education . . . by a woeful disregard for the needs of our senior citizens . . . by a severe lack of industrial job opportunities for our people.

George Wallace is the man who has successfully fought the Federal courts which would repudiate and make a mockery of the American Constitution.

George Wallace is the man who has called education our "number one" problem and who has promised economy in government—including cutting in half the Governor's own funds—to relieve this quickly.

George Wallace is the man who has worked to increase old age pensions and give our people a better break in their twilight years.

George Wallace is the man who conceived the Wallace Industrial Act and steered it successfully through the Legislature, thereby created a healthy climate for new industry and bringing more than $150,000,000 worth of new plants to Alabama in the last 10 years.

George Wallace's pledge to you:

Tuesday you will vote for the man who will lead our state for the next four years.

From all appearances my supporters believe that mine will be the highest vote in the history of Alabama and I would like to ask you to help me in my battle against the notorious "blue vote" of those who would tear down our state.

My record shows that I have the ability to do the job, and most importantly, that I have the ability to get elected. I ask you to consider this strongly when you go to vote. Please don't throw your vote away . . . don't scatter the vote of the good people of Alabama.

I promise you that I will give every ounce of my strength to maintain the good things about our state and to improve things in Alabama where they are needed.

My reputation is one of a "fighter". I'm proud of this because I believe that a man is less than nothing if he's not willing to fight for what he believes in.

For the next four years I pledge to you that I will fight with all my heart for the betterment of Alabama. I humbly and earnestly ask you to join me in that fight with your vote for me Tuesday.

GEORGE C. WALLACE

Subject to Democratic Primaries May, 1962.

Fair Labor Standards Prohibits Employment During School Hours

Farmers and commercial growers in the Gulf Coast area were reminded today that the Fair Labor Standards Act prohibits the employment of children under 16 years of age during school hours.

The reminder came from O'Neill Barrett, supervisor of the U. S. Department of Labor's Wage-and-Hour and Public Contracts Divisions field office in Mobile, Barrett said.

All farmers who ship crops across state lines, or have reason to believe that their products will cross state lines, are subject to provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act. Only exception to the law is for children who work for their parents or guardians on their home farms.

"Our special concern about keeping youngsters out of the fields is to assure them the proper time to attend school. This applies to the children of parents in the area as well as to local residents," Barrett pointed out.

He also advised farmers to request that youngsters seeking full-time work obtain a certificate of age. These are issued by the local school authorities in Alabama and Florida, and protect the employer from unintentional violations. In Mississippi, certificates are issued by the Jackson-Veazie-Horn Building, 210 South Lamar Street, Jackson.

Persons requiring further information about the child labor laws may call Barrett at 408-951 Government House, or write him at 34358.

RAMBLING ROSES AND FLYING BRICKS

By EARL TUCKER

High school graduates, along about this time of the year, start coming to me seeking advice on a career. It is very refreshing to see these young people using such good judgment in seeking wise and experienced counsel and I am delighted to impart knowledge to their eager minds.

Looking back some forty years I can realize the dilemma they face, because I was in the same predicament. I had seriously considered a number of careers and had discarded them one by one for various reasons. First, I toyed with the idea of becoming a minister but there were certain obstacles in the way. I know I tried hard to believe all of the things my Sunday school teacher taught me, but I couldn't go all the way. I finally forced myself to accept the story of the whale swallowing Jonah, although I never did get what you might call enthusiastic about it. What excited me up was Daniel in the Lions' Den. I had been to a circus where I saw a lion like the one in the picture, and I was awed and awed and nobody within twenty feet of me could be safe. I stood with my back to him but even then I was scared.

My advice to young people is to get in something they are pretty sure they are going to like. I tell them not to be influenced too much by what their parents may have selected for them, on account of most parents have mighty high aims for their children and everybody can be President. Another bit of advice I give to young people is not to be afraid to change professions or vocations after they find they are not happy in a particular line. After all, you can always fall back on something like writing a column.

★ why WALLACE is ★ THE MAN FOR YOU

Right-thinking Alabamians everywhere know that the next four years are possibly the most crucial ones our state has faced in a hundred years.

We are beset by outside forces and alien "isms" who want to turn our world upside down... by serious money shortages which have brought about a shameful crisis in education... by a woeful disregard for the needs of our senior citizens... by a severe lack of industrial job opportunities for our people.

George Wallace is the man who has successfully fought the Federal courts which would repudiate and make a mockery of the American Constitution.

George Wallace is the man who has pledged to retain segregation of the races.

George Wallace is the man who has called election our "number one" problem and who has promised election in government—including cutting in half the Governor's own funds—to relieve this quickly.

George Wallace is the man who has worked to increase old age pensions and give our people a better break in their twilight years.

These are facts and while it would be nice to be able to flick a switch and change all this overnight, this simply cannot be done. We cannot afford to indulge in such fanciful thinking.

What is needed now is fighting, dedicated Christian leadership of the kind that George Wallace can give.

The MAN with a PLAN

Solicits your support for a full term as State Superintendent of Education

On July 1, 1961, I accepted an appointment as your State Superintendent of Education. This appointment followed six years of provision of school funds, the first year of provision being in 1954.

During these years of crisis, some teachers, office personnel, bus drivers and others in the field of education had to wait for their pay. I accepted the office of State Superintendent in order to correct this situation. I do not want to mislead anyone. The problems of financing education have not been solved; however, the outlook has improved. I pledge my continued support to the school people, the Alabama Legislature, and the governor of our state in order to solve all these problems during the next four years to complete this most important job we have undertaken.

You have a right to know that as of today, even with provision, all teachers, office personnel, bus drivers and others have been paid. Also the State salary schedule has been maintained.

I solicit your continued interest and support in order that I may be in a position during the next four years to complete this most important job we have undertaken.

A MESSAGE TO THE PEOPLE OF ALABAMA

I THANK YOU FOR THE CONFIDENCE AND SUPPORT YOU HAVE GIVEN ME

Herewith I submit some of the highlights of my record, which I respectfully ask you to approve May 1 by your vote for my re-election as your Senator from Alabama. I pledge that I will continue to serve you and our people of Alabama to the very best of my ability.

Our Southern Rights

I have always worked and fought to protect our Southern rights and traditions. I have fought against every anti-South measure in Congress — FEPC, anti-labor laws, so-called civil rights bills, and as Southern team captain have led many of these fights. I will continue to do everything in my power to preserve our Southern way of life.

NATIONAL DEFENSE

Our national defense and security and the preservation of our freedoms and our way of life in the face of Communist threats and aggression are of primary interest. To keep America strong that we may keep America free — have worked for these measures:

Defense against subversion and Communism

Research and development of missiles and nuclear weapons

An accelerated space program

Unification and strengthening of the Armed Services of the Nation

Expanded programs for mental health and for rehabilitation

Strengthened local health agencies and preventive medicine

Increased community health services for the aged and chronically ill

WORKING MEN AND WOMEN

The productivity and skills of the nation's working men and women are the backbone of a prosperous peacetime economy and our strength in wartime. I have supported programs for our working men and women, such as:

Decent hours, fair wages, safe working conditions

Increased pensions and increased payments to wives and widows

Increased benefits for disabled dock and harbor workers

Unemployment compensation

Hospitals and Medical Prepaid Insurance

EDUCATION AND VOCATIONAL TRAINING

Personal success, the continued growth and progress of Alabama and our National security today demand good education and productive skills. In the U. S. Senate I have supported these programs:

Vocational education and training

Public library extension

Rural library program

National Defense Education Act

School Lunch Program

Rehabilitation of handicapped

Land Grant Colleges

BUSINESS AND INDUSTRY

Alabama can prosper only with healthy, expanding business and industry that provides jobs and payrolls for our people. Incentives for investment, and adequate rewards for business enterprise. To promote Alabama's industrial growth I have supported and fought for these programs:

Removal of discriminatory freight rates

Aluminum, chemical, pulp, textile and other new industries in Alabama

Alabama war plants and defense installations and their conversion to peacetime operations

Full development of Alabama waterway systems and harbors

Small Business Administration

Fair taxation and insured bank deposits

SOCIAL SECURITY

I have always supported social security programs providing:

Unemployment compensation

Old age assistance, aid to the blind and dependent children

Old Age and Survivors Insurance

Maternal and child care

Coverage for teachers and ministers

Increased exempted earnings

Decreased eligibility age for women

Increased benefits to meet increased cost of living

We must not forget that our America is strong only as her people are healthy and strong in body and mind and that our national strength depends on the development of our agriculture, our industry, our natural resources, and our scientific knowledge and technology. Now as never before, we must possess the physical and mental stamina, as well as the courage and the vision to meet the challenge of our time.

Wallace's record PROVES he'll STOP WASTE AND PAY-OFFS!

"Alabama desperately needs every cent of its revenue for legitimate purposes — for schools, for the aged, for roads, and other badly-needed improvements. And I intend to see, as your Governor, that every cent is used for legitimate purposes."

This is George Wallace's promise. And here are some of the ways that he intends to accomplish it:

1. By working to cut down drastically the number of legislative days in his administration. This change from a long drawn-out, obsolete and inefficient system by a conscientious and dedicated Legislature alone will save Alabama taxpayers millions.

2. By abolishing the liquor agency system which pays off political cronies in liquor money.

3. By appointing a man of unquestioned integrity and business ability to be Alabama's Finance Director.

4. By personal example, Wallace will ask the Legislature to cut appropriations for operation of the Governor's office by one-half.

5. By bringing about needed reforms in the state's lobbying laws and by eliminating conflicts of interest . . . in the State Highway Department . . . and many other branches of the government where needless waste and "pay-offs" are now robbing the people.

6. By tightening up the competitive bid law and cutting out the negotiated contract, whereby specifications are written so as to exclude bids by honest competitors.

7. By making sure there are no private deals—Private deals invite steals.

If you want this kind of honest, economical, sober, hard-working government, you can have it . . . by casting your vote for the man who has proved his own personal integrity during every day that he has served our state.

Elba Tigers Begin

Baseball Season

With 1 Win; 1 Loss

The Elba Tigers played their two first baseball games Friday night, April 13 and Tuesday night, April 17. The Tigers won their first game of the year April 13 as they edged the Ozark Eagles 2-1 in a thriller played on the home diamond. The Tigers had to go an extra inning to win, however, as the hard-fought game lasted 11 innings.

The Tigers drew first blood, scoring a run in the third inning, as Donnie Flowers, who relieved Holley in the seventh, raved up a single, but then retired the next three batters to pick up the victory.

In the extra eighth inning, Donnie Flowers, who relieved Holley in the seventh, raved up a single, but then retired the next three batters to pick up the victory.

Labor Problem Important Factor In Plant Location

The great majority of the respondents from Alabama to a questionnaire, found the supply of gas, oil and coal to be a least adequate but seventy per cent found that there was abundant electrical power and none found it to be inadequate.

77% appears to be an area that could be exploited to a greater extent in publishing the industrial advantages of the state. Although availability of labor was mentioned most often as being a factor influencing the location of a plant in Alabama and as being the second most important single factor, when questioned in detail, over 30 per cent indicated that the supply of managerial personnel and skilled labor to be inadequate and 18 per cent stated that supervisory personnel were in short supply. On the other hand 60 per cent claimed that there was an abundant supply of unskilled labor and none indicated that it was inadequate. This would tend to explain why Alabama can the other southern states have a per capita income of $800 a year less than the workers in the non-southern states. The recent report of the Committee on Industrial Development to the Southern Governors' Conference that recognized the need to train and up-grade the work force should be implemented. If managerial and supervisory personnel and skilled labor remain in short supply, it can be expected that firms coming to Alabama will continue to be those needing unskilled, low-cost labor. This, as experience indicates, will merely continue the status quo.

Pine Level Play Sponsored by PTA Brings Laughter

More than 350 attended the presentation of a "Womanless Wedding" at the Pine Level School Saturday, April 14th. The play was sponsored by the PTA and characters were men of the organization. Mrs. John B. Smith directed the play. The presentation was a scream from the beginning to end. Edmond Hudson was the bride and Steve Smith the groom. Glister Campton and Cecil Kidd gave the pre-nuptial music. Walter Rabon was soloist and Paul Kendrick, pianist, James Galloway and Aubrey Carlie were bridesmaids and Shelly Kidd was flower girl.

Dean Christian played the part of colored nurse and Colonel Hall was baby sister of bride. Twins were G. D. Bryan and Joe Henry Marler.

Wilton Bryan was the minister and Bill Boeman "Miss Knowall." Darrell Galloway was a lady guest, Trixie Kilcrease, grandmother of the bride.

John D. Smith acted as grandfather of the bride, while Nelson Whitehurst was father of bride and Dewey Kilcrease as mother. Wilmer Galloway was the bride's uncle and Joe Frank Kilcrease an aunt. Donald Rushing was an unhappy jilted sweetheart. James Bryan was the mother of the jilted sweetheart, Charlie Carpenter was the doctor.

Ushers were Ferrel Danley and Ray Barlow. Serving the groom as best man was Dan Bryan. Lamar Killingsworth was ring bearer and Deamon Bryan a n d Doyle Hudson were train bearers.

State Grand Jury Praised George C. Wallace for "Resisting To The Limit!!!" Following is a Certified Copy of the Grand Jury's Report:

STATE OF ALABAMA)
BARBOUR COUNTY.)
IN THE CIRCUIT COURT.
REPORT OF GRAND JURY

This Grand Jury recommends that the matters alleged in the sworn petition of Crews Johnston be investigated by the next regular grand jury, as that will meet within a short period of time. From our preliminary investigation we are convinced that this matter should be investigated further, and so recommend to the next regular grand jury.

We want to especially call your Honor's attention to the partial reports heretofore made to your predecessor, Honorable George C. Wallace, and we hereby express again our sentiments as expressed therein concerning our independent actions in this matter, and incorporate such partial reports into this, our final report. We want to state to you as we stated to your predecessor in our partial reports, that we, the Grand Jury of Barbour County, Alabama, allowed agents of the Civil Rights Commission to examine records in our possession, under rules set by us, and in our presence, to show the world that we, in this County, are not ashamed of the actions of any of our officials and that we had nothing to hide. This alone prompted our actions, as we, being an independent body, were determined that local authority would be respected by agencies of the Federal Government. We repeat, our actions were wholly voluntary and not influenced by anyone.

We, as the last Grand Jury to serve under Judge George C. Wallace during his six years on the bench, want to take this opportunity to highly commend him for his service to the people of this County and to the judiciary. We appreciate his vigorous defense of constitutional government and states rights. His successful defense of the courts over which he presided, from unlawful intrusion from the so-called Civil Rights Commission is well known. No group has been in a better position than this Grand Jury to observe his resistance to the Civil Rights Commission's attempt to take over the courts of this State, as we were on the scene and know he resisted them to the limit. We further commend him for successfully carrying through his original stand that the voter registration records would not be carried away from this County or taken from the custody of his court.

We feel that the great need of the South today is for more men of the foresight and determination of your predecessor, Judge George C. Wallace and also our Solicitor, W. Seymour Trammell, in protecting our institutions from continual encroachment upon the rights of the states by the federal government. We, the Grand Jury of Barbour County, Alabama, feel that we are representing the views of the people of this County when we say we resent deeply the efforts of the Federal Government to destroy the social and educational institutions of the South, and the destruction of the rights of states; and we say emphatically that if this trend is not stopped we are afraid that it will bring about a national calamity. We say further that there has never been a time in the last several decades when unity among the people of the South is so badly needed. We call upon our elected officials to resist the arrogant attempt of the Federal Government to destroy constitutional government and institutions known to be in the best interest of all the people of the South. We are not unmindful of the fact that the officials of the South who are active in such resistance find themselves under attack from powerful forces from without, bent upon their destruction to lessen such resistance. We further call for unity of our people in their stand behind these officials who dare to resist.

We again commend the courageous action of Honorable George C. Wallace, who risked his very freedom in the federal courts in carrying out the duties and oath of office as a Circuit Judge. We also commend his course of action to Your Honor, and feel that we express the feelings of all people of Alabama and the South, when we pledge to you our support in such endeavors.

VIEWS... OF THE ...NEWS

BY J. L. KIMBRO

One of the most important offices to be filled at the coming primary is that of State Democratic Executive Committee. Eight members are to be elected from each of the nine congressional districts as the districts stand now, making a total of 72 members for the State. Members draw no salaries, but other than the Governor and the Legislature, no office in the State is going to mean so much for good or for evil in the next four years.

Before the end of another four years, unless something comes that is not now foreseen, to put a curb on the judicial dictatorship that has sprung up in Washington, something will have to be done to restore to the people the right to nominate the kind of men wanted, which is what the primary system was created for. The Federal dictators already have made it well-nigh impossible to nominate candidates in free primaries and free elections are working night and day to finish the job. Instead of primary elections being what were intended to be, the Federal dictators have made them a "Babel of Tongues".

The fight is going to be a long hard one, but our State Executive Committee will be in position of authority to do something looking toward the restoration of an effective system of nominating candidates who will truly represent the wishes of the people, and unless we elect men to the office who will fight, they may sit idly and indifferently while the Federal dictators herd us in the judicial slaughterhouse and finish their job.

Already the judicial dictators have made our primary elections such a "Babel of Tongues" that we are forced to tolerate anything in the world in our primaries from Democrats to Communists; and when a commie gets more votes in one of such primaries, if the so-called loyalists have their way we will be compelled to vote in the general election for the black commie or be penalized politically. Personally, I'm fed up on it.

In the coming May 1 primary we have a "Babel of Tongues" running for State Democratic Executive Committee. Candidates in one group call themselves "Loyalists". Candidates in the other group are called "States Rights" because they believe in preserving the rights of the states provided in the Constitution. But many voters do not understand what the difference is.

In brief the difference is this: The so-called Loyalists believe that the voters ought to be loyal to the party label regardless of what the party stands for, or how come it standing for it. For example, when the party has been taken over by the bosses, even when ters are, therefore, "loyal" to principle before party label, while the so-called Loyalists are loyal to party label before Constitution provisions. All voters who like the party label better than they like the Constitutional rights we are supposed to have, should of course go to the primary on May 1 and vote for the so-called "Loyalists" for State Democratic Executive Committee. But those voters who think more of our blood-bought Constitutional rights than they think of a party label should go to the polls May 1 and vote for States Rights candidates for State Executive Committee.

Drive Slow and Live Longer

In an exciting campaign we are apt to overlook a technical office like State Treasurer. But our State Treasurer has many important duties and responsibilities. As your State Auditor for the past four years I have audited the books of the Treasurer... which means examining over one million vouchers in the course of a year. I am familiar with the many financial and legal problems with which the Treasurer must deal day by day. Twice before you have given me positions of high trust... first I served as your Secretary of State, and am now serving as your State Auditor. Before that I managed a family business and was a practicing attorney in my home town of Scottsboro. As your Treasurer I would serve on the Alabama Education Authority and the State Board of Adjustment... two boards on which I now serve as Auditor. If you will again trust me, I will dedicate myself anew to the job ahead... and, God willing, I will always hold your trust.

ALABAMA INDUSTRY DAYS...

"What Alabama Makes Makes Alabama"

There are literally thousands of products manufactured and sold today in Alabama. This week, in recognition of Alabama Industry Days, with the slogan of "What Alabama Makes Makes Alabama" a number of business firms and this newspaper are presenting to readers a special four-page section containing information concerning products manufactured in Elba and in Alabama.

These business firms represent some of Elba's most prominent business men, who operate with integrity and the highest standard of service and merchandise. The Alabama of yesterday and the Alabama of today bear one vital resemblance—progressive-minded people. These citizens have developed Alabama from a state with a small amount of commerce and industry into today's thriving, diversified economy. Industrial expansion has been rapid, because here industry finds all the factors essential to efficient operation.

Alabama is now in the space age and rocket programs open new frontiers for the state. Alabama in the space age took the spotlight this week as the state began the annual Industry Days observance, a week-long program dedicated to the theme that "What Alabama Makes Alabama."

Alabama's gains are impressive and enviable. Each year has seen large plants come into the state, including several new factories in the million-dollar class. The industrial growth of Alabama in recent years has been spectacular, a net gain of 40,000 manufacturing workers between 1947 and 1962 is a real achievement.

Alabama is doing well in the industrial development field. This is due largely to the natural advantages that the area offers to industries. Industrialists generally are swayed by those considerations having to do with prospects of successful operations and profits, and they find in Alabama those factors which lend themselves to successful manufacturing operations.

A quarter million persons are employed in Alabama manufacturing plants. Alabama is one of the leading industrial states in the South.

Some of the ideas born in the Industrial Board, and which have become a reality are the Hog Diagnostic Laboratory, the Windham Power Plant, Inc., the new Elba hospital, a new medical clinic, the securing of 1,250 acres in purple hull peas on contract to be planted by the farmers of the area. The peas have been contracted to be sold to a frozen food company. The growers are guaranteed $60 a ton for the peas which are to be sold during the month of July. Only 700 acres was requested but the response was nearly double.

The Board is now conducting a labor survey. They hope to obtain a list of all available workers in the community in order that such information could be supplied to plant owners desiring same.

Dr. E. M. Warr is overall chairman of the Elba Industrial Board.

Carlton Larkins is chairman of the Industrial resources and Ben Brock, labor with Oscar Vaughan, Jr., and Robert Cannon, community financing.

The Board first directs attention toward fostering establishment and expansion of home payrolls. They also work toward importing out-of-state industries to this area. They encourage the spending of revenue locally.

Local Packing Co. Known Throughout For Meat Process

The Elba Packing Company is one of the industries of Elba that is known far and wide. This writer has been in distant cities long before coming to Elba to live, and heard about the Elba Packing Company and their famous pure-pork sausage.

Other than the pan sausage the Elba Packing Co. has for the market, smoked hams, bacon, weiners and bologna, and also deal in provisions such as cheese, oleo, and biscuits. They also do processing of meats for the public, according to the customers order. They do custom butchering, cutting, wrapping and curing of all meats.

The owners of the Elba Packing Co. are the Kelley

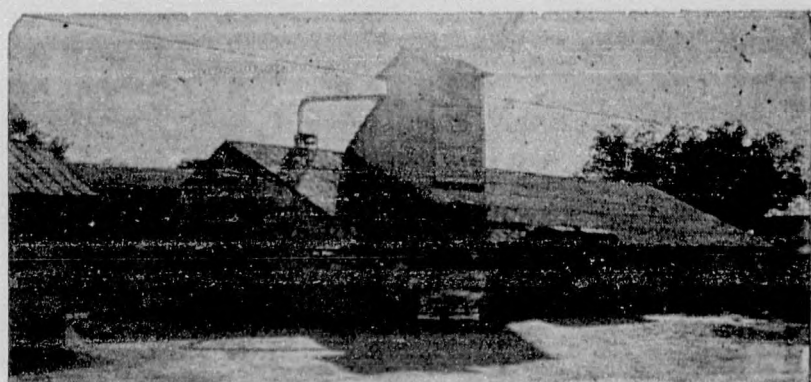

Brothers, Everette, Hollis, and Dwight. Everette and Hollis are both married and have children. Dwight remains single.

When the Kelley brothers took over the firm they realized a business of $253,000, the first year of 1958. In 1961 the business had increased to $397,000.00.

The company wholesales meats and canned meats but do not process these two items.

The Kelley's are lifelong residents of this community.

Boutwell Bakery Cooks On Oven Made 37 Years Ago

Boutwell's Bakery is one of Elba's oldest business firms and they continue to use the first oven made in 1925 when Mr. and Mrs. Moley Boutwell set up the bakery.

Amazing to say the least, is a visit to the Boutwell Bakery immediately you know why the "Old Fashioned Pound Cake," they are so famous for, remain the same good old fashioned pound cake that grandma baked back in her day. The Boutwell Pound Cake is familiarly known from Elba to the Gulf of Mexico.

When Mr. and Mrs. Boutwell began their bakery business in June, 1925, they held strictly to the baking of bread and cake products, including rolls and buns.

They built their first oven, the one still in use to bake the old fashioned pound cake, when they started the business. The oven was made 37 years ago from brick.

During the Elba 1929 flood when Elba was almost destroyed by high waters from Pea River the building was washed away from the oven and it was necessary to rebuild the building around the firm brick oven after the angry Pea River had subsided.

The bakery is operated by Mr. and Mrs. Boutwell's daughter, Frances and her husband, Stanley Prior, who continue to use the same method used in the beginning in the making of the old fashioned pound cakes.

Bank Site Bought In Preparation Of Modern Banking

The Elba Exchange Bank was incorporated January 18th, 1938 with a paid in capital stock of $25,000 and $5,000 surplus, making a total investment of $30,000.00. At this time the stock was composed of 250 shares and owned by 58 people in and about Elba and its trade territory. As usual, any small corporation, considerable stock was sold and exchanged, so as of this date it now has 18 of the original stock holders who helped to organize the bank.

During the forties, the capital stock was increased to $50,000, by declaring a stock dividend. The first of 1956 additional stock was sold in the bank making the capital running $100,000. Surplus $65,000, and undivided profits running over $53,700.00.

In making this change, a good number of new stockholders were added, and with the balance of 18 as shown, the stock holders now stand at 60. With just a few exceptions these stockholders are located in Elba and its trade territory, and those away from Elba carry deposit accounts with the bank.

This bank was created to serve the citizens of Elba and its trade territory. It now employs 12 people, all of whom are Elba citizens, and people reared near Elba. The employees of this bank are the same type of people as their depositors and borrowers. They are anxious to give our citizens the best in banking service and want you to call on them when they can be of service.

This bank has purchased a location in Elba as a future banking site, when they outgrow their present location. When this change is made it will have one of the best banking homes in the State of Alabama. Give them your help to make them grow so we can have the honor of a new bank building in Elba.

CEMENT PRODUCTION

Cement production from Alabama's eight cement plants totaled approximately 12.8 million barrels in 1961, up 7 per cent from 1960, but exceeded slightly by production in 1959. The low point for cement producers in 1961 came in February and April. Cement production in Alabama has typically shown more instability than United States production.

During the 1961 recession, Alabama production declined approximately 10 percent to the trough compared with five per cent decrease for the United States.

From February to the end of the year Alabama production increased approximately one-third while from through to year's end, United States production increased one-fifth.
